

What does the Oakley Mental Health Research Foundation fund?

What will the Foundation consider providing funding for?

- Equipment
- Project operating expenses
- Project related salary costs e.g. research nurses, project related workers
- Paying someone to carry out specific tasks i.e. project related costs
- Travel related to carrying out the project e.g. going to sites to conduct interviews
- Costs for dissemination of findings
e.g. dissemination of information back to local communities involved in the research
e.g. a 'road show' in NZ for dissemination of results (details of what and where would be required)

What won't the Foundation fund?

- The Foundation does not offer internships
- Research / activities carried out outside New Zealand
- Conference related expenses including travel, accommodation, registration fees
- Tuition fees / course costs
- Stipends / living expenses
- Salaries for the applicant, primary investigators or PhD students working as research assistants
- Overheads (i.e. institutional costs requested by a host institution for lighting, heating etc)
- Publication costs
- Laboratory animal-based applications
